ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The PSGIAS German School of Technology (GST), in partnership with the Indo German Institute for Higher Education (IGCHE), offers bilingual 3+1 undergraduate programs in technical disciplines. Students complete three years in India with German language training, followed by a final year in Germany, gaining industry experience through internships and completing their thesis.

Graduates earn a prestigious German-accredited bachelor's degree, combined with practical know-how, language skills, and cultural adaptability—qualities that set them apart globally.

OUR UNIVERSITY NETWORK

Partnering with nine of Germany's top universities from our 37-member DHIK consortium, our network offers high-quality courses in a dynamic and enriching learning environment.

WHY STUDY IN GERMANY?

Germany is a leading choice for Indian students. Nearly 50,000 Indian students studying across the country form a strong community and foster academic and cultural exchange between Germany and India.

A top destination for academic excellence and career growth, with unique opportunities that enable students to stand out from the crowd.

Gain a globally recognized degree, access to top internships, career services, and an extensive professional network in Germany, ensuring a strong foundation for your future.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

A streamlined path from India to Germany equips students with the skills, cultural knowledge, and insights for a smooth entry into the German job market and global career opportunities.

Engaging guest lectures from top German universities deliver invaluable knowledge and exclusive insights into innovative industry practices and academia.

Cultural events and workshops offer insights into German customs, culture, and ways of thinking—valuable for understanding local and international business practices.
